1. Purpose. To establish procedures for officers to attend leadership training courses.
2. Background. Reference (a) announced the establishment of mandatory leadership training for personnel at key career points, the details of the Leadership Continuum, and established attendance criteria.
3. Policy

a. Most officers in communities with established training pipelines en route to division officer and department head billets receive the required leadership training course as a portion of that pipeline. Officers who are in career fields without en route pipelines and who need intermediate or advanced courses will receive the leadership training courses at one of the Navy leadership training sites. Exhibit 1 delineates which officer communities receive the courses during an existing pipeline and which will necessitate an intermediate stop for leadership training at a Center for Naval Leadership (CNL) site.

b. All prospective commanding officers (PCOs) and prospective executive officers (PXOs) receive their leadership training via an intermediate stop at the Command Leadership

Course (CLC), while on permanent change of station (PCS) orders en route to their leadership assignment.

c. All major command PCOs and commanding officers (COs) will attend the Major Command Leadership Course (MCLC) via an intermediate stop at the Command Leadership School (CLS), while en route to their leadership assignment.

d. A Command Spouse Leadership Course (CSLC) is offered at the CLS. The intention is for spouses to attend this course while the active duty member is attending command leadership training. An invitation for spouses will be included in the orders, and all PCOs will be required to verify the attendance or non-attendance of their spouse with the director of the CLS. All orders for officers attending the CLS will include authorization for spouses to attend the one week CSLC. Quotas are obtained directly from the CLS, and directions are outlined in the orders on how to enroll the spouse.

e. Leadership training is mandatory for all officers serving in leadership positions.

4. Action

a. PCS orders for officers en route to leadership tours who do not receive leadership training during an existing pipeline, to include training received at initial accessions sources, will include an intermediate stop for leadership training at a CNL learning site.

b. Use the matrix, Exhibit 1, to determine leadership training attendance via existing pipeline or via CNL learning site during PCS transfer.

c. Quotas are obtained directly through the Enterprise Naval Training Reservation Systems (ENTRS). Detailers should advise their constituents to confirm time and location of training either through reference (b) or through the leadership page of Navy Knowledge Online (NKO). Exhibit 2 lists primary sites where CNL officer leadership courses are delivered.

d. Any officer unable to attend the appropriate leadership course must receive a waiver from Deputy Chief of Naval Personnel (DCNP) (PERS-00B). Additionally, placement officers must contact gaining commands to make the command aware of their responsibility to ensure the member attends the appropriate leadership course. NAVPERSCOM, Allocation and Statistics Branch (PERS-452D) ((901) 874-4682, DSN 882-) is the point of contact for questions and amplifying guidance on waivers.
